Civil Conversations

I recently attended two local presentations that connected with the theme of civility. One presentation took place in August at the Cedar Rapids Public Library. The Ray Center at Drake University put on this event. The presenter shared the need to understand the viewpoints of others before we can expect others to understand our own particular viewpoints. The speaker said we often prepare a rebuttal instead of really listening to those around us. Another insight was the importance of attacking the issues of the day and not the people connected to the issues. We should care more to get it right than to be right.

The other presentation, at Theatre Cedar Rapids in September, was the Iowa Ideas Conference sponsored by the Cedar Rapids Gazette. This presentation addressed the importance of finding ways to collaborate in the polarized times we live in. One of the session speakers was former Iowa Supreme Court Justice David Baker. He shared that most people want a fair resolution in the matters of the day, but no one wants to be seen as weak. For many, compromise is seen as being weak. Folks want to win. Baker mentioned that few people know how to pick up the phone and speak to one another.

For me, these presentations brought out the need to work harder at getting along. We live in a difficult world today and times will only get tougher unless we learn to find common ground, respect the viewpoints of others, and express a willingness to compromise when the timing is right.

A scripture reading I reflected on after the presentations was Matthew 18: 15-17. In this passage, Jesus talks about conflict. He says that parties need to put in the hard work. Jesus says that if a person bothers you, you should come to this individual one-on-one. If this doesn't work, then it is acceptable to bring in one or two others. Extra efforts are needed to find common ground. I hope we make those efforts.

I've been reflecting lately about ways we might get along in our world today. Might we all do what we can to make a difference!

A Thousand Blessings to each of You! Scott

If there's enough interest, another meeting night will be on Sundays @ 6 PM—start date TBD. ◆ Pastor Scott and Pastor Jenny will lead the classes. Please contact one of them if you have any questions or if you'd like to attend and haven't already indicated your interest.

WWW: Wednesday Women of the Word is Meeting Wednesdays at Noon

All women are invited to this study placed during the lunch hour. IT'S NOT TOO LATE TO JOIN IN! If you can schedule your work day once a week to join us, please do. For those coming over the noon hour, feel free to bring your lunch to eat during the study; food, faith and fellowship are a great combination!

The group is reading and discussing Boundless Compassion, written by Joyce Rupp. In a world where compassion is NOT the norm, Joyce Rupp provides practical, real-life situations to move the reader to develop a compassionate consciousness and find the behaviors that embody it. It was love that motivated Jesus to act in his ministry and mission. Come join the conversation toward a more compassionate lifestyle.

There is minimal reading between meeting times. The book is divided into 6 sessions, but we are breaking it down even more to go up to 12 weeks.

The book costs $15 and can be picked up in the office. For more information, contact Pastor Jenny at 319-393-6674 or jennys@lovelylane.org.

IOWA CONFERENCE UNITED METHODIST WOMEN'S MISSION U

This year's theme is "Being Bold For Christ" and the Scripture is II Timothy 1:7 (NRSV): "God does not want us to be shy with His gifts, but bold and loving and sensible." Our theme hymn is: "I'm Going to Live so God Can Use Me" (#2153 in The Faith We Sing). The fall session is Oct. 19-21 at Iowa Valley Community College, Marshalltown, IA. The topics are: Spiritual Growth: "Embracing Wholeness: An Earth Perspective for Covenantal Living"; Social Issue: "What About Our Money? A Faith Response"; Geographic study: "The Missionary Conference of The United Methodist Church in the United States." CWM- Children's Weekday Ministries

*Lovely Lane Preschool *Trinity Lane Preschool *BASE - Before & After School Daycare

CWM always enjoys fall! We fall into our school routines and fall in love with the children as we plan instruction for almost 80 students at Lovely Lane and 80 at Trinity Lane. No one falls through the cracks. We welcome each and every one. Daycare falls in line with nearly 80 students as well. Not everyone is full-time, but the families depend on us to be here every day with our talented and reliable staff that does not fall short in their ability to care for the students in a nurturing and safe environment.

We never fall off the wagon for doing God's work or fall prey to any philosophy besides our mission of blessing our children and their families with the presence of God's love. We want our families to fall head over heels in love with our program. We cannot fall asleep at the wheel, and we always fall back on the gifts God has given our teachers—so patient and loving.

Since Trinity Lane is in a new home, teachers are letting old ways fall by the wayside as they embrace challenges of a new environment. We don't want to fall behind on installing the playground; Sept. 27th is the set date. Site preparation was done by a company for no charge.

As the curtain falls on the month of September, preschool is busy with school pictures, field-trips, KidSight, DHS visits, a fundraiser and Open House. Let the leaves fall where they may. We're grateful for our preschool and daycare families and the churches housing our programs.

Happy Fall Y'All

UMC's Present Commission On the Way Forward: Three Plans (Sept. '18)

The One Church Plan (recommended by the Council of Bishops) would allow for contextualization in different parts of the world (adapting some non-essential practices to different mission fields to maximize our witness and success in each place). It's based on the belief that we can be a church with a large enough tent for people to disagree about homosexuality and yet remain together as The United Methodist Church. It allows us to affirm that our unity and mission are more important than our disagreements.

The Connectional Conferences Model is grounded in a unified core that includes shared doctrine and services, and one Council of Bishops, while creating different branches that would have clearly defined values such as accountability, contextualization, and justice.

The Traditionalist Model would affirm the current language about homosexuality in the Book of Discipline and seek to strengthen enforcement for violations of church law.
